

WorkOut Aligning Your Organization for Change

Implementation & Impact

WorkOut is designed to help firms cut through bureaucracy, improve processes, make decisions quickly and engage their work force by creating the conditions for rapid, measurable improvement in as little as 3 months.

Originally created by Jack Welch at GE, WorkOut is a proven methodology for driving and implementing change. It is designed to help clients identify what is crucial and relevant to their core processes and obtain dramatically improved results through a facilitated metrics-based process of rapid goal-setting and actions implementation.

Global Experience

Diligent Innovations' Staff and Associates have facilitated dozens of Work-Out sessions for a variety of US and international clients facing a myriad of strategic challenges. All our Work-Out engagements are:

- Fully customizable to your firm's needs
- Staffed by experienced professional consultants and facilitators
- Based on disciplined 90-day implementation and detailed follow-through
- Fully consistent with & complementary to Six Sigma & Lean processes
